PROFILE SUMMARY

As a performer, my philosophy is simple: "If I can distract someone from their everyday life and make them smile, then I am doing my job. A defining moment working in children's entertainment reminded me of theater's power to bring joy and relief to those facing unimaginable challenges, reinforcing my desire to be both an escape and a voice for others. I strive to work with authenticity and strength, using my voice to tell meaningful stories that connect, inspire, and empower.
